Farewell Mrs Farrow

Congratulations to Mrs Farrow, who has passed her Teacher Training and spent her last day in school with us on Thursday. On behalf of the school community, we all wish Mrs Farrow the best in her new career. Thank You, Jenny – for your continued commitment, hard work & impact, in such a short time, at our school.

Tuesday's FOES Sponsored Walk

We are really excited about Tuesday's Sponsored Walk. If children can get sponsorship, this would be fantastic, but certainly not essential. Any little helps! We recognise how supportive everyone has been for the Kickstart competition. Our sponsored walk links to our geography curriculum and of course, an opportunity to celebrate Sid's 3rd Birthday...but who will look after Sid for his special outing? We will let fate decide on Monday. Further info about our trip in the locality to follow on Monday – look out for the ParentMail.

Learning Highlights of the Week

Daffodil Class:

The children continued learning about space, this week finding out about the different planets. They have learnt the names of them and explored how they are different. They used this knowledge to create space fact posters.

On Thursday afternoons, Daffodil Class have been learning about 'People Who Help Us'. They used what they have learnt in the books purchased by Book Club and the recent firefighter visit to inspire their learning. They started work on a fire engine and flames last week. This week they spent time in 'watches', learning through continuous provision, including putting out fires in settings! Thank you to Mr Proctor and Mrs Austen for all their hard work in bringing children's learning to life with our very own fire engine. Fabulous!

Thistle Class:

In Thistle Class this week we have created some beautiful self-portraits. We have used mixing skills to create different tones and apply them to our drawn faces - they are looking spectacular!

Bluebell Class:

Bluebell did so well in swimming this week. It was great to hear Mrs. Deili praising the whole class for their effort and achievements in the distance they can swim.

Dahlia:

Within R.E lessons, the children have been discussing and developing their own world view. Everyone exhibited a remarkable level of maturity, while expressing their perspective, opinions and ideas. It was fantastic to be a part of.
