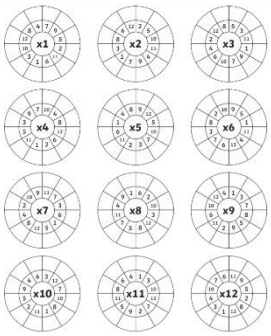
Orangutan's Core Bingo: (w/c 29/06/20)

Maths

Arithmetic

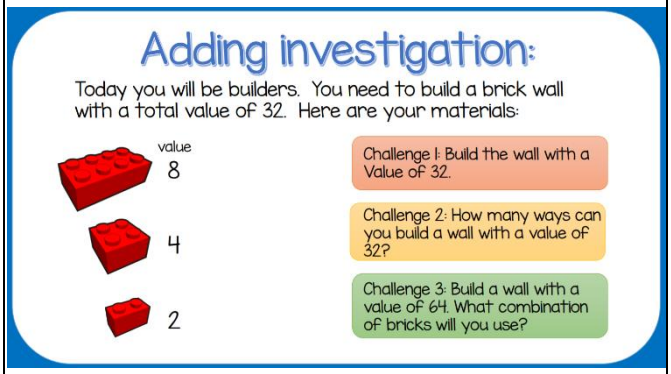
Choose a times table that you are working on. How many sections on the multiplication wheel can you complete? (Large version of the sheet available below).



Try fillng it in in order (x1, x2, x3, etc.) and then challenge yourself to see if you can complete it at random (x5, x2, x9, x3 etc.)

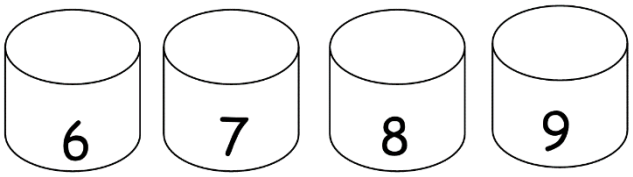
EXT: Complete other wheels that you know. Practise any that you get wrong.

Investigation



Investigation

Look at the buckets below. Adapt the numbers to make it harder/easier.



What scores can you find with 2 bean bags?
Remember more than one bag can go in a bucket.

How many scores can you find?
What is your highest score?
What is you lowest score?

EXT: Try with 3 bean bags!

Theme: 'Shape'

Revise what you have learnt about 2D and 3D shapes so far by watching the clips on:
https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/topics/zjv39j6

Now look around your home for shapes that tessellate. How many patterns can you find? Remember to check floors, windows and wallpapers.

English

Class Book

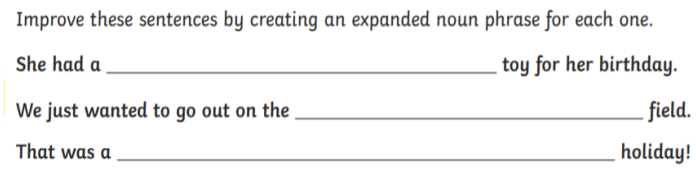
Watch Chapter 18 of Charlie and the Chocolate Factory (read by Mrs Williams) on Purple Mash.

What do you think is behind the red door?

Write a detailed prediction explaining what you think could be behind the door.

TIP: Remember to use your imagination and your senses to help you!

Grammar



EXT: Now try writing some more examples of your own.

Cross Curricular Writing (*Geography Link)

Look at the example fact sheet (larger version attached below).

Using your research about African animals (refer to Geography task), create a similar fact sheet about a chosen African animal.

Remember to…
-Include a title/subheadings
-Add pictures or diagrams
-Write in paragraphs
-Include lots of factual details (rather than opinion)
-Think carefully about the layout to make it clear

Tarantula Fact Sheet

There are around 900 species of tarantula. They are found in parts of America and Africa. Many tarantulas live underground.

Age:
15-25 years

Size:
8 - 30cm in length

Weight:
28 - 85g

Tarantula Facts

Even though they do not spin webs, tarantulas use their silk to make doors or soft walls for their burrow.

Tarantulas are night-time hunters who will pounce on their prey. They eat insects, beetles and grasshoppers.

They have hairs on their abdomen (stomach) that have sharp barbs. When threatened, the spider will rub these hairs with their legs and shoot them at their predator.

Interesting Fact

A tarantula's venom is actually milder than that of a honeybee.
